

Dr. Burgess Weekly Address November 9, 2018

Honoring North Texas Veterans

Hello, this is your Congressman Michael Burgess.

Today I am in Lewisville, where I just awarded the Congressional Veteran Commendation to five outstanding North Texas veterans.

This commendation honors distinguished veterans of the 26th Congressional District. It is awarded to men and women who served in the Armed Services, and now continue to serve their fellow veterans and their North Texas neighbors. Participating in this annual event is one of the greatest privileges of serving as your Congressman.

Truly, it is in the sacrifice and service of our veterans that we see the American spirit.

This weekend, as we mark Veterans Day, we are reminded of the courageous men and women in uniform who have served the United States and who have fought to maintain our national security. As our Armed Forces humbly bear the burden of protecting our liberty and freedom, our veterans and their families deserve the utmost respect.

Just this week, Election Day provided the American people with the opportunity to have a voice in the future of their government. The freedom to participate in our democracy is a right for which our veterans have fought.

Our veterans of wars past and present have made substantial sacrifices to defend the freedom of their fellow Americans, and we remember those who dedicated their lives to service.

Today and every day, I am grateful to the veterans in North Texas and across the nation who have served our country.

As always, I appreciate your comments and your questions on this issue or any other issue. May God bless you and your family, may God bless our veterans, and as the song says, God bless you Texas.
